I think this dual degree program will impact massively in my life. This program offers me the experience of studying in Japan and also Australia. Aside from experiencing two different new cultures, we can make a lot of new friends. Studying abroad must have looked scary at first. You maybe have a lot of doubts and concerns. However, once you are there and experiencing it, all of those doubts will be gone.

Coming to Japan and becoming a part of the Ritsumeikan community, you will not only obtain the knowledge and skills you need for a future career, but also be able to make lifelong friends from different parts of the world. Starting a new life in Japan can be challenging to a certain extent, but there will always be people around you who can support you and help you overcome those obstacles.

Through CRPS, I had the opportunity to learn more about my initial interests in sustainable urban policies while also exploring newfound interests, like policy information and communication process in the online and social media age. CRPS also taught me about finding the balance between optimism and pragmatism in crafting policy recommendations. Living in Japan as an independent international student gives you a chance to discover more; more about yourself and more about the world around you. It's a thrilling and exciting ride, so come and join us!

JDP students learn about Japan's perspectives over the world at Ritsumeikan. At American University, they can experience hot issues on world politics in DC. After finishing my first semester at AU, I was a little worried about upper level courses coming up in the next semester, but I was determined to continue my hard work. Both colleges (AU and RU) are definitely challenging, but it will help us in the future if we successfully complete the courses.

Dual degree program with the Australian National University

College of Global Liberal Arts [GLA]

Bachelor of Global Liberal Arts (RU) & Bachelor of Asia-Pacific Affairs (ANU)

The College of Global Liberal Arts (GLA) is the first in Japan to provide a college-wide dual degree program in collaboration with the Australian National University (ANU).

PROGRAM DESIGN

GLA provides students with a comprehensive liberal arts education in English required for our globalized times. The undergraduate dual degree program is offered jointly by GLA at RU and the College of Asia & the Pacific (CAP) at ANU. The dual approach will help to develop a competitive foundation for your career: applying your Asia-Pacific-wide experiences, intelligence, and in-depth knowledge to broaden business practices in global corporations. It leads you to proceed to professional careers in the fields of public policy, diplomacy, law, strategic studies, international relations, business administration, design etc., and pursuing specialized academic knowledge at graduate schools in Japan, Australia, and other regions.

Why GLA?

1

World-Class Education

Be a part of world-class education and learn with some of the best academics in the Asia-Pacific region. Graduate with two bachelor's degrees from leading universities in Australia and Japan.

2

3 years at RU in Japan + 1 year at ANU in Australia

Experience college life in both Japan, where cutting-edge technology meets tradition, and Australia where excellence in higher education meets multiculturalism.

New Liberal Arts for the New Era

Going beyond the boundaries of a traditional liberal arts education, this program focuses on practical training in a broad range of disciplines including cultural studies, management theories, science and technological studies.

4

Truly International Environment

The diverse student body of this program will allow students to foster connections with their peers and academics worldwide. Explore new perspectives and develop global competence.

American University - Ritsumeikan University Joint Degree Program [JDP]

College of International Relations

Bachelor of Arts in Global International Relations

This program was launched on the 30th anniversary of the establishment of the College of International Relations. This course is the first joint undergraduate degree program between Japan and the United States.

PROGRAM DESIGN

Joint degree programs are collaborative degrees offered by two different universities with educational and student support systems designed to develop graduates whose skills and knowledge are in demand. This new and exciting program offers students a chance to fully immerse themselves in the cultures and learning environments of Japan and the US. Students at both Ritsumeikan University (RU) and American University (AU) will form a cohort within and across academic years, enabling them to learn about each other's cultures and develop their cross cultural communication skills in an interactive learning environment.

Curriculum

Course Category Core Courses, Foundation Courses, Research Methodology, Foreign Language Courses, Thematic Area Courses, Regional Focus, Capstone Project, Elective

Thematic Areas In order to learn specialized topics within Global IR systematically, students will choose their primary and secondary areas of focus from:
Global and Comparative Governance (GCG)
Identity, Race, Gender and Culture (IRGC)
Peace, Global Security and Conflict Resolution (PGSCR)

Why JDP?

Joint Degree from the Leading IR Faculties in the US and Japan

The College of International Relations (RU) is recognized as one of the top institutions in Japan in the field of international relations. The School of International Services, (AU) is a top-10 school of international affairs in the US. On completion, students will be jointly conferred a Bachelor of Arts degree in Global International Relations from RU and AU.

2 Years in Kyoto and 2 Years in Washington D.C.

Kyoto, the ancient capital of Japan and home to 17 UNESCO World Heritage Sites, is a famous international city that attracts visitors from all over the world. Washington D.C., the center of international politics, is an ideal place to study international relations. Students will have first-hand experiences through active learning in these two cities, exchanging ideas with students coming from all over the world.

Jointly Designed Curriculum

The curriculum is designed jointly by RU and AU. Students will study in a coherent academic curriculum in English which enables them to earn a joint degree from a Japanese and a US institution. This is the first program of its kind in Japan. Students will acquire a degree that is unique, distinctive, and highly desirable.

Career Opportunities

The degree provides the chance to pursue career opportunities in Japan and the US. Alumni of the College of International Relations have found employment in a wide variety of companies (trading companies, manufacturing companies, major airlines), institutions (such as embassies, governments), as well as further studies at graduate schools like Oxford, LSE, UBC, University of Tokyo, etc. RU and AU will offer joint career advice in each country to all JDP students.

Bachelor of Arts in International Relations

The College of International Relations was established in 1988. With more than 30 years of history, the Global Studies Major (GS) started its innovative challenge in 2011. GS offers English curriculums and welcomes students from overseas which add value to our unique and diverse learning environment.

PROGRAM DESIGN

The program is designed to be flexible, with students able to design their learning programs based on their interests and career goals. In the first year, students take a range of introductory and academic skills courses, which develop a foundation for their studies. From the second year, students start their study of core and area studies courses from the list detailed below. Second year students also take part in the hands-on Global Simulation Gaming, a class taken together with Japanese-based students. They continue to deepen their studies in the third year, particularly through the research focused Advanced Seminar, before writing their graduation thesis in their fourth year.

Why GS?

One of Japan's Leading International Relations Faculties

The Graduate School of IR is the only full Japanese member of APSIA (Association of Professional Schools of International Affairs). APSIA includes highly advanced universities in 10 countries, such as Harvard University, Yale University, National University of Singapore, and others.

Faculty and Student Diversity

We have faculty members from various countries and regions such as Asia, North America and Europe. In addition, several professors have experience working at the UNHCR, the World Bank, as international journalists, and in a range of other international careers providing guidance to students from over 27 countries around the world.

Japanese Language Studies and Cross-Enrollment between the English-medium and the Japanese-medium Majors

International Students take 6 credits of Japanese language courses in the first year and can take further Japanese courses in the following years. GS students with a high level of Japanese language proficiency can take Japanese IR courses.

Career Opportunities

Graduates have found success in many careers with positions as diplomats, NGO employees, media professionals and also employed in international business fields. GS alumni often pursue further study to deepen their knowledge at its graduate school but also at other famous schools such as Oxford University, Johns Hopkins University, London School of Economics, University of British Columbia and others.

Community and Regional Policy Studies Major [CRPS]

College of Policy
Science

Bachelor of Arts in Policy Science

Since its launch in 1994, the College of Policy Science has grown considerably and it is now a representative of Japan's research in this academic field. Community and Regional Policy Studies started in September 2013.

PROGRAM DESIGN

In the first and second year, students acquire academic and critical thinking skills, as well as basic knowledge needed to study in the core discipline areas of our program. Several of our courses involve field research with our flagship On-site-Research Project program offering exciting opportunities for research collaboration with other students either in Japan or abroad. As students progress through the program, they continually focus on their studies, gaining more in-depth knowledge and advanced thinking skills in order to prepare for their advanced Policy Seminar and Case Study Seminar courses in their third and fourth year in which students produce a final graduation thesis based on their original research.

Why CRPS?

Faculty Members from a Variety of Backgrounds

We have faculty members who specialize in natural sciences as well as social scientists. The diversity of teaching staff allows students to not only learn specialized knowledge in various fields, but also how to analyze issues from a variety of perspectives. Small classes enable students to receive detailed instruction from the faculty members.

Practical Experience Conducting Social Surveys and Fieldwork

There are many opportunities in our program to do active field research either in Japan or also abroad. We place great emphasis on practical training, for example in carrying out social surveys and field research. Student-centered classes encourage active participation, lively discussions and dynamic presentations.

Instruction in Research Methods

A prime feature of our program is our focus on building research methods—statistical analysis, as well as quantitative and qualitative research skills. We believe these skills are critical for analyzing policies and practices and to be able to develop effective policy solutions to issues.

Intensive Japanese Language Studies and Exchange with Japanese Students

We offer Japanese language instruction for beginners up to advanced level. Learning Japanese will give students greater opportunities to: study policy science subjects in Japanese; participate in field research in Japan; join extra-curricular activities; do an internship; and perhaps get a part-time job. Learning Japanese to an advanced level could potentially lead to a career within Japan.

Information Systems Science and Engineering Course [ISSE]

College of Information Science and Engineering

Bachelor of Engineering

The College of Information Science and Engineering was established in 2004. It is the largest ICT college in Japan that provides education in the main academic fields of computer science.

PROGRAM DESIGN

Students in the Information Systems Science and Engineering Course develop the information systems engineering skills necessary to work anywhere in the world and bring imagination and technical competence to every kind of project and organization, while also maintaining the powerful benefits of their own unique personalities and cultures. The program lays a foundation in the basics of engineering and the technical competency to work flexibly with continually evolving hardware, software, and user needs.

Why ISSE?

Practice-Oriented

The Information Systems Science and Engineering Course is project-based learning at its best - offering practical, hands-on engineering experience to match the demands of industry leaders in Japan and worldwide. This practice-oriented education is centered around project work throughout the program.

Customizable Education

The Course offers flexible study plans to complement and foster individual abilities in the best possible way. A combination of fundamental classic science courses and interdisciplinary engineering practice disciplines allows students to learn both for and from doing. The learning environment as a whole is designed to develop distinctive talents, embracing diverse personalities who will work together to innovate the future world.

Project-Based Learning

Students join engineering projects from their first year of study while education is centered around project work throughout the program. During the first two years, students learn various processes of the engineering product life cycle and teamwork. During the third year, they are ready to launch their own projects that will lead into graduation theses.

Global Opportunities

A range of extracurricular programs and internships provides students with opportunities to test themselves in the larger world through academic mobility and interactions with top-level researchers. Graduation launches students into a new world where they can continue to work as researchers, product and system developers, international project managers, entrepreneurs, and more.

Scholarships and Stipends

Tuition Reduction Scheme

International Students (who hold the visa status of residence of [Student] while studying at RU) are guaranteed at least a 20% reduction, with 50% and 100% reduction offered to the most outstanding applicants.

- No separate application is required for the scholarship and the amount of reduction will be notified with admission results.
- The RU Tuition Reduction Scheme is offered initially for one year, based on the students' admission evaluation. For 2nd and subsequent years, the tuition reduction will be awarded based on students' grades during the previous year of study.

Post-Admissions scholarships available to International Students:

There are a variety of scholarships that students can apply for, after the admissions process. Students are encouraged to research other scholarships and their details.

Examples of scholarships available as of 2020

- JASSO Scholarship: 48,000 JPY (462 USD) per month
- International Students Assistance Scholarship by RU Faculty/staff: 250,000 JPY (2,400 USD) per year.
- And many more throughout your study, please consult our Scholarships' page. en.ritsumei.ac.jp/current-students/financial-aid/
